

Acknowledgment

The job of putting out the "Gleaner" is one that requires many hours of planning and work. The members of the staff appreciate the help of both students and faculty. We want in particular to thank Mr. Behrens for his constant help and guidance. Our special thanks go also to Miss Collar and the art staff, to Mr. Sauers for managing the sales, and to Mr. Baxter for his continual support.

CONGRESSMEN IN TIZZY

Senate Adjourns Amidst Difficulties

WASHINGTON, January 28, 1974—"Who is investigating whom?" This is the question that has congressmen in a turmoil. Last month President Paul Shalmy recommended that a committee be named to investigate the House Investigating Committee. Both Houses agreed and named the following group: Senators Doug Jones, part time hill-billy singer, Chuck Carter, David Steigelman, and Ron Reesor.

Two weeks ago Senator Cara Witten, ardent vigilante, thought she detected subversive actions in the second committee. A group, called the Committee to Investigate the Second Committee, was formed. Its chairman, Nick Ross, president of the Sons of the Confederacy, and his assistants, Lynette Eyring, Rolf Haasarud, and Bob Burlingame, conceded that the situation was confusing.

Fifteen committees later all trace of whom or what was being investigated had been lost. Besides, there were no more Senators to appoint to committees.

Burton Moyer, Senate majority leader and owner of Moyer Aspirin Co., called for an adjournment. Just before leaving on a fishing trip with President Shalmy, he said, "Sales of Moyer Aspirin have reached an all-time high. I'm sure the American people are proud of the record of the 93rd Congress."

Late Stroll; Bells Toll

BERKELEY, January 28, 1974 — Residents in the neighborhood of the Campus were awakened at 2:30 this morning by the sound of the Campanile bells. Police officers Robin Anderson, Dick Jorgensen, and Pete Walker rushed to the scene and found Don Weilerstein atop the tower. He was dressed in night clothes, still sleeping, but with a smile on his face as he played "Onward Christian Soldiers." When awakened, he could give no explanation of how he got to the top of the 310-foot structure. He was sure of only one thing—there were blisters on his fingers and toes and he had a sinking feeling in his stomach. Chimesmaster John Templeton and his assistant, Gary Johnson, said they would now play "Onward Christian Soldiers" each afternoon at 2:30 in honor of the occasion. Weilerstein was taken home, and residents went back to sleep.

COFFEE SOARS TO NEW PEAK

BERKELEY, January 28, 1974 — The Garfield Gazette learned today in an exclusive report that another flying saucer has been seen. Almost unbelievably it was followed by a cup and a coffee pot.

Miss Sheryl Stevens and three of her neighbors, Suzanne Fife, Jean Merrill, and Linda Bergtold were gossiping over the back fence when they spied the amazing spectacle. They immediately telephoned Sergeant David Viale of the Berkeley Police who summoned the Air Force. A jet plane piloted by John Weatherholt was dispatched to chase the objects. Also aboard was Mrs. Shriver who went along for a cup of coffee. The cup and saucer disappeared but the coffee pot landed atop Mt. Everest. This, according to government experts, explains why coffee is so high.

Man Reaches Mars

BERKELEY, January 28, 1974—People the world over were in a feverish state of excitement today after a message was received from Professor Ron MacDonald reporting his safe arrival on Mars. Interest was heightened by the fact that the air minded professor had forgotten his space helmet and when last heard from, was floundering around in the Milky Way.

A committee of scientists made up of Jay Kennedy, Bob Hayworth, and Tom Melgaard are studying the significance of Professor MacDonald's message. The message reads: "Mars bars are the same here as on earth, but there are more of them."

Cooking Contest Results Announced

EMERYVILLE, January 28, 1974—Today the Bomb Stove Company proceeded with the finals of its cooking contest in the cellar of the John Carbone & Sons' Department Store. Two hundred Bomb Stoves were set up, and each contestant was given one pound of bacon fat flavored with garlic with which to cook. Judges were David Youngs, president of Bomb Stoves; Doug Jennings, the spitwad king; and Pete Eubanks, public enemy number 1½.

The judges unanimously awarded first prize to Ed Miller for his recipe, Old Shoe Stew, cooked in axle grease. Runners up were: Linda Baer, for her caviar of coyote; Shelda Myers, for her octopus pie; and Sally Said for her alcohol soup. It should also be noted that Joyce Vinton cooked the county tax collector, Dick Conrat. This dish did not win a prize however, as Mr. Conrat was not properly seasoned and was overbaked.

All judges were taken to the SPCA for emergency stomach pumping.

RAFT EXPEDITION PLANNED HERE

BERKELEY, January 28, 1974 — Final preparations were being made today for the voyage of the raft, Hi-lo. The captain of the expedition, Jim Bowman, released a statement concerning the destination of the ten-foot craft. He believes that because the people of Berkeley and those of Marin County dress alike and observe the same customs, they must be of the same origin and must have had some means of communication. In order to prove his theory, he and his crew will attempt to drift from the Berkeley Yacht Harbor to the shores of Marin County. They will not take along food or radio equipment but will take homing pigeons for sending messages. In case they don't catch anything to eat, they will eat the pigeons. They plan to drop pebbles as they drift in order to retrace their route in case they become lost.

Other crew members will be: Gary Resser, navigator; Norman Breslow, photographer; Bob Verhoogen, keeper of the pigeons; Harvey Wang, cook (just in case); and deckhands: Bob Hoffer, Mike Hedemark, and Bob DeCosta.

Capt. Bowman hopes to be home in time for the holidays.

JUDGE HAS WEIGHTY PROBLEM

Uranium and dead cats occupied the mind of Municipal Judge Richard Dawson today. He has a knotty problem to decide.

The case is as follows: Miss Connie Wilander's cat became gruesomely ill and died. As she lives in an apartment, she had no place to bury the poor creature. A friend, Joanne Basinger, offered her back yard as a final resting place. A neighbor, Mr. Richard Morgan, came to the Basinger residence to dig the hole. While digging, Morgan struck uranium.

A dispute arose as to the ownership of the new-found wealth. Judge Dawson must decide who gets the profits from the uranium—Mr. Morgan, who was digging at the time; Miss Basinger, on whose property the uranium was found; or Miss Wilander, whose innocent cat was the cause of it all.

ART WINNERS NAMED

Winners have been named in the second annual South Berkeley Art Show.

First place went to Nancy Hack for her watercolor entitled "August 18." This was a conglomeration of many colors in no particular design. An interesting sidelight on the award was revealed by Miss Hack. She discovered when she returned to her studio that she had accidentally entered the paper on which she had wiped her brushes instead of her painting. She intends to follow the same procedure in future exhibits.

Jane Sammis won second place with her still life done in oils on burlap. The fruits were so realistic that Katie Thornton, the museum director, ate an apple, two bananas, and was biting into an orange before she discovered her mistake.

Plans are already under way for next year's show.

Accident Reported

Calvert Moore, Esq., was limping around the house today as a result of injuries he sustained when he stepped on some jacks. The accident occurred at about midnight when he got up for a late snack. Dr. C. G. Mahakian, who was called, said that three rolls of scotch tape were used to close the punctures on his feet. After this Mr. Moore will remember to put away his jacks after playing with them.

Guess What? It's Can Opener Week

WASHINGTON, January 28, 1974 — Senator Travis Fretter (R.-Ariz.), chairman of the Senate Trade Committee, signed a resolution today making February 6-12 National Can Opener Week. This worthwhile and heretofore neglected campaign was introduced jointly by Senators John Griffiths and Alan Fisher. Senator Griffiths urged all housewives to "run, not walk, to the nearest hardware or department store and buy several can openers. Select colors to match your kitchen. This will give you a lift. Invite your friends over and spend a jolly evening opening cans." On reading the news, Anne Conner, local homemaker, said, "This will be a welcome change from television."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:
... to conclude this fifty-page letter, the point I want to make is this, my name is spelled with one A instead of two.

GEORGE KANEKO

Dear Sir:
In regard to the last issue of your paper, last year, I wish to call your attention to an error concerning the article on me. My brother's wife's uncle's half-sister's cousin's husband's grandmother's Aunt Lucy was really my brother's wife's uncle's half-sister's cousin's wife's grandfather's Aunt Lucy.

JOHN VERITHIN VANDERSLICE III

Dear Sir:
I think your paper is doing a wonderful service to the community. Why, I just wouldn't have anything to wrap my garbage in if it weren't for you.

DIANA DARNALL

Advice to the Lovelorn

BY CAROL UHLINGER

Q. Should I marry a rich man in poor health or a poor man in fine condition? — Hedy Thompson.

A. Marry both of them and in that order.

Q. I've been going with the same boy for twelve years. How can I get him to propose?—Janice Mills.

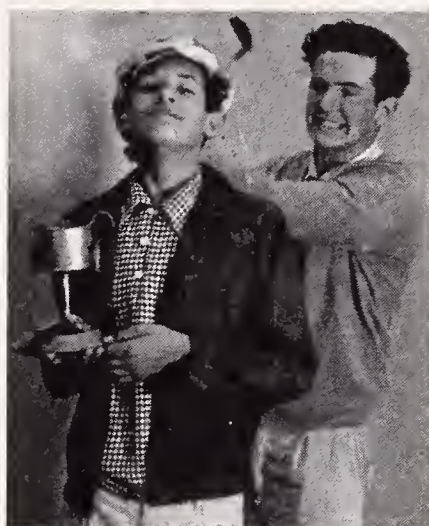

A. Spread banana peels around on the floor. He will be down on his knees before he knows it.

Q. The girl I have been going with refuses to see me. The last time I called she hit me with a baseball bat and broke my leg. How can I be sure she isn't just playing hard to get?—Bob Long.

A. While you never can be sure about women, my advice to you is to scam while you still have a leg to stand on.

GOLF TOURNAMENT ENDS IN FLURRY OF FLYING CLUBS

TILDEN PARK, January 28, 1974 — The Heiti Raamat Invitational ended today with a great show put on by the finalists, Bob Ellerbeck, Jim Warner, Dave Newsom, and Pete Green.

Bob Ellerbeck dribbled a beautiful ball thirty feet down the first fairway to begin the finals.

While crossing a creek near the fourth hole, caddy Steve Lewis, the well known wrestler, tripped over his muscles and fell in. Unfortunately he wasn't missed until the foursome reached the next hole and someone remembered to haul him out.

The winner of the tournament was none other than Berkeley's own beloved garbage commissioner, Jim Warner. It was a close battle all the way with Warner and Newsom fighting it out for the title. Newsom had hacked his way around the course in only 182 and was tied for first on the eighteenth green, when Warner accidentally kicked his ball thirty feet into the cup for the winning score. But Dave was a great loser and very generously wrapped his favorite putter around Warner's neck. Just after this show of affection, photographers snapped this picture of Jim with his beautiful gold loving cup.

The only casualties of the day were three spectators, Barbara Whitby, Janet Tait, and Judy Kysh, who were knocked out by a bag of clubs thrown by Pete Green, who announced he was going back to training monkeys.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Each year, on February 30, the conductor of this column will send $100 to each person whose contribution is printed.

Before making the beds, be sure they are not occupied. — Wendy Bartlett, Gold Run.

The children's shoes will not wear out so quickly if you allow them to go barefoot three days a week. — Carol Kaleva, Rough and Ready.

Goldfish will do better if there is water in the bowl. — Liz Latapie, Freshwater.

Stiff limbs will loosen up quickly when bathed in hydrochloric acid. — Rav Salvo, Dinkey Creek.

Old cigar butts will light much more quickly when soaked in gasoline. — Philip Woodson, Happy Camp.

To avoid that watery texture in jello, do not serve it in warm dishes. — Penny Chapman, Round Mountain.

When making tutti-frutti ice cream, better results will be obtained if you add the tutti to the frutti instead of the frutti to the tutti. — Cathleen Daily, Coarse Gold.

CUTIES TAKE ON LONG SHOTS

The Pacific Coast Women's Softball Championship will be decided tonight when the Cucumber Cuties, sponsored by the Berkeley Pickle Works, meet the Albany Long Shots, sponsored by Golden Take Fields. The Cucumber Cuties are the favorites. One glance at their lineup will show you why.

Karla Kobelt will be the lead-off pitcher. That ingenious idea of hers to substitute eggs in place of the ball now and then fools them every time. It also adds color to the game. Judy Berry will catch. What she can't catch isn't worth catching! First base will be handled by Kara deLongpré, second by Sandra Goulart, and third by Donna Meyers. These ladies aren't as good at the base positions as they should be, but this shortcoming is made up for by their batting averages, which run around 100.

At shortstop position is Barbara Mailey. She looks a little quaint on the field in her long skirts but she finds it is so much easier to stop balls that way. It takes a fast one to get past her.

Nancy Flegal plays center field; Susan Jennings, right field; and Darlene Nickerson, left field. Fans will remember for a long time the freak accident that happened at the last game. The three tried for the same high fly and came together with a resounding smack. As they lay unconscious on the field, the umpire discovered that each had a hand firmly clasped around the ball. This feat won the game for the Cuties.

Umpire for the game will be Eleanor Soderman. Fewer pop bottles are being thrown now since she is becoming accustomed to her bifocals.

Don't miss tonight's game. Something is SURE to happen.

BOOKS IN BRIEF

BY PATSY BARRINGTON

"Hot Foot" by Bill Chamberlain is the author's own story of his attempt to cross the Sahara barefoot. Unfortunately, blisters forced him to turn back when he was half way across. On his next attempt he will start from the opposite side. In this way he hopes to make ends meet.

Gordon Whitehead Book Co. $1.99.

"Wendall Slept Here" by A. Baxter. This is the story of Wendall Keays' three years at Garfield. Mr. Baxter is well qualified to be Keays' biographer as they saw a great deal of each other.

Some of the more interesting chapters are entitled Snoozes in Spanish, Dreams with Dunkum, and Notes While Napping.

As an added attraction this book is cleverly illustrated by Jeannette Stewart, who is really a wizard with the crayolas. No one has drawn better daydreams.

Peter Hall Paper-Back Pub. Co. 25c.

"Ungrow Does It" by Heidi Stohler is the latest "do it yourself" book intended for the amateur gardener. Ungrow is made from a formula thought up by the author after many ups and downs, to say nothing of backs and forths, with her lawn.

This new product is applied with an attachment on the lawn mower. If the mower is operated in the usual manner, the lawn is fertilized. If the mower is run backwards, Ungrow will shrink the grass. In addition, it contains lanolin which has a soothing effect on neurotic lawns.

Ungrow may also be used as a lubricant and to keep down weeds, control ants, attract birds, and delouse chickens.

This is a fascinating book and well worth the modest price of five cents. John Hatch & Allison Ware, Pub.

New Look Has Everyone Looking

Tyler Harding, famous Parisian designer, held his spring showing this week. Prospective buyers are all a-twitter over the new styles which they describe as a natural development of the children's game of drop-the-handkerchief. Both necklines and hemlines have been dropped drastically. No one is sure just where they have been dropped as they still haven't been found.

One new gown was modeled by Judy Burton, Marilyn Monroe's new replacement in Hollywood. Just as she came tripping across the stage she tripped into the orchestra pit. It required half an hour to get her out of Gerry Bonds's tuba. Now Gerry's tuba goes oooooom-pah, oooooom-pah.

Other gowns were modeled by Leslie Hoff, Gerry Klein, Gale Houston, Brianne Coffey, Jean Virta, Joyce Latimer, and Ellen Jorgensen.

POETS' NOOK

by ALICE YUAN
LAMENTATIONS

Now I lay me down to sleep,
With my homework in a heap.
If I should die before I wake,
I have but one request to make.
Lay my Social Studies by my hand,
And tell Mrs. Choisser I don't understand.
Lay my Latin by my feet,
And tell Mrs. Small it's got me beat.
Lay my English by my head,
And tell Mrs. Montagne I'm glad I'm dead.
Lay my math by my side,
And tell Mrs. Luke that's why I died.
